Presenter: Diane Henriks

Take a closer look at the 1850 to 1950 U.S. Census records as vital genealogy resources while examining details you may have missed, learning helpful tips, and understanding the benefits of using these valuable tools!

Diane Henriks, also known as the Descendant Detective and founder of Know Who Wears the Genes in Your Family, is a seasoned Los Angeles County-based professional genealogist, investigator, speaker, and author who specializes in descendency and brick wall research, along with living people search and unknown parentage. Diane is a proud member of the Association of Professional Genealogists, the Genealogists Speakers Guild, the Southern California Genealogical Society, the Utah Genealogical Society, and various genealogical interest groups. What started out as a hobby well over a decade ago when her father gave her a hand-drawn family tree chart has become a great obsession prompting her to help others discover and preserve who they are and where they come from!
