

Writing a Family History Story

First Steps

On Saturday November 19th, I will be bringing you along on a journey of transforming your research into family history stories. Before you attend this presentation, consider answering the questions below. Have an ancestor in mind when you join us for this webinar. It will help you apply the elements you will learning and start you on way to writing your ancestors' stories.

1. Identify an ancestor you wish to write about?

2. How has learning about this ancestor influenced you? How can your family learn from them?

3. What has this ancestor achieved in their life? What have they done that makes them newsworthy?

4. What obstacles did your ancestor overcome to reach this achievement?

5. What motivated your ancestor to seek out these achievement? Why was this goal important to him or her?